THE TRUE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Mankind has long held that science and religion do not mix. To believe in one, the other must be pushed aside—for to believe in both at the same time is to be torn constantly by seeming contradiction. This book gives a startlingly rational argument for science and religion to come together at last.

If the Bible comes from God, it must be applicable to all the generations of man, and not just to the time and locale of its origin. The Bible gives man the task of uncovering its meanings through study and divine inspiration. This task applies to modern man as much as to biblical man. And science is modern man's most valuable tool. Since the Bible is universally applicable, it must and will stand up to the scrutiny of scientific investigation.

Scientific religious study also will help man uncover the too-large role of emotionalism (as opposed to spiritualism) in modern Christianity. Once science and religion are shown to be compatible, emotionalism can be dispensed with—and with it, sects, churches, and other unnatural divisions in Christianity. Then we will have the comfort of what we have needed all along: a true Christian science.

analysis tells you why

By HANI RIZK ABDU

Mankind has long held that science and religion do not mix. To believe in one, the other must be pushed aside—for to believe in both at the same time is to be torn constantly by seeming contradiction. But in The True Christian Science, we are given a startlingly rational argument for science and religion to come together at last.

If the Bible comes from God, who is omniscient and omnipotent, it must be applicable to all the generations of man, and not just to the time and locale of its origin. The Bible gives man the task of uncovering its meanings through study and divine inspiration. This task applies to modern man as much as to biblical man. And science is modern man's most valuable tool. Since the Bible is universally applicable, it must and will stand up under the scrutiny of scientific methods of investigation. Indeed, recent findings in the field of astronomy have even now begun to lead scientists back to the Bible.

Scientific religious study will bring an additional benefit to the relationship between man and God: the uncovering of the too-large role of emotionalism (as opposed to true spiritualism) in modern Christianity. Once science and religion have been shown to be compatible, emotionalism can be dispensed with—and with it sects, churches, and other unnatural divisions in Christianity. And we will have the comfort of what we have needed all along: a true Christian science.

About the Author

Hani Rizk Abdu is a doctor of pharmacy in his native Egypt. When he began his religious studies it seemed only natural to apply the scientific methods he had learned during his formal education. It was thus that Dr. Abdu discovered the true Christian science written of here.

Dr. Abdu is the author of several scientific and religious books published in the Arabic language in Egypt, as well as of Christian Psychology, soon to be published by Exposition Press. He lives in Cairo with his wife, a physician, and their three children.

CHRISTIAN PSYCHOLOGY

Hani Rizk Abdu

Dynamic new concepts in the study of human nature

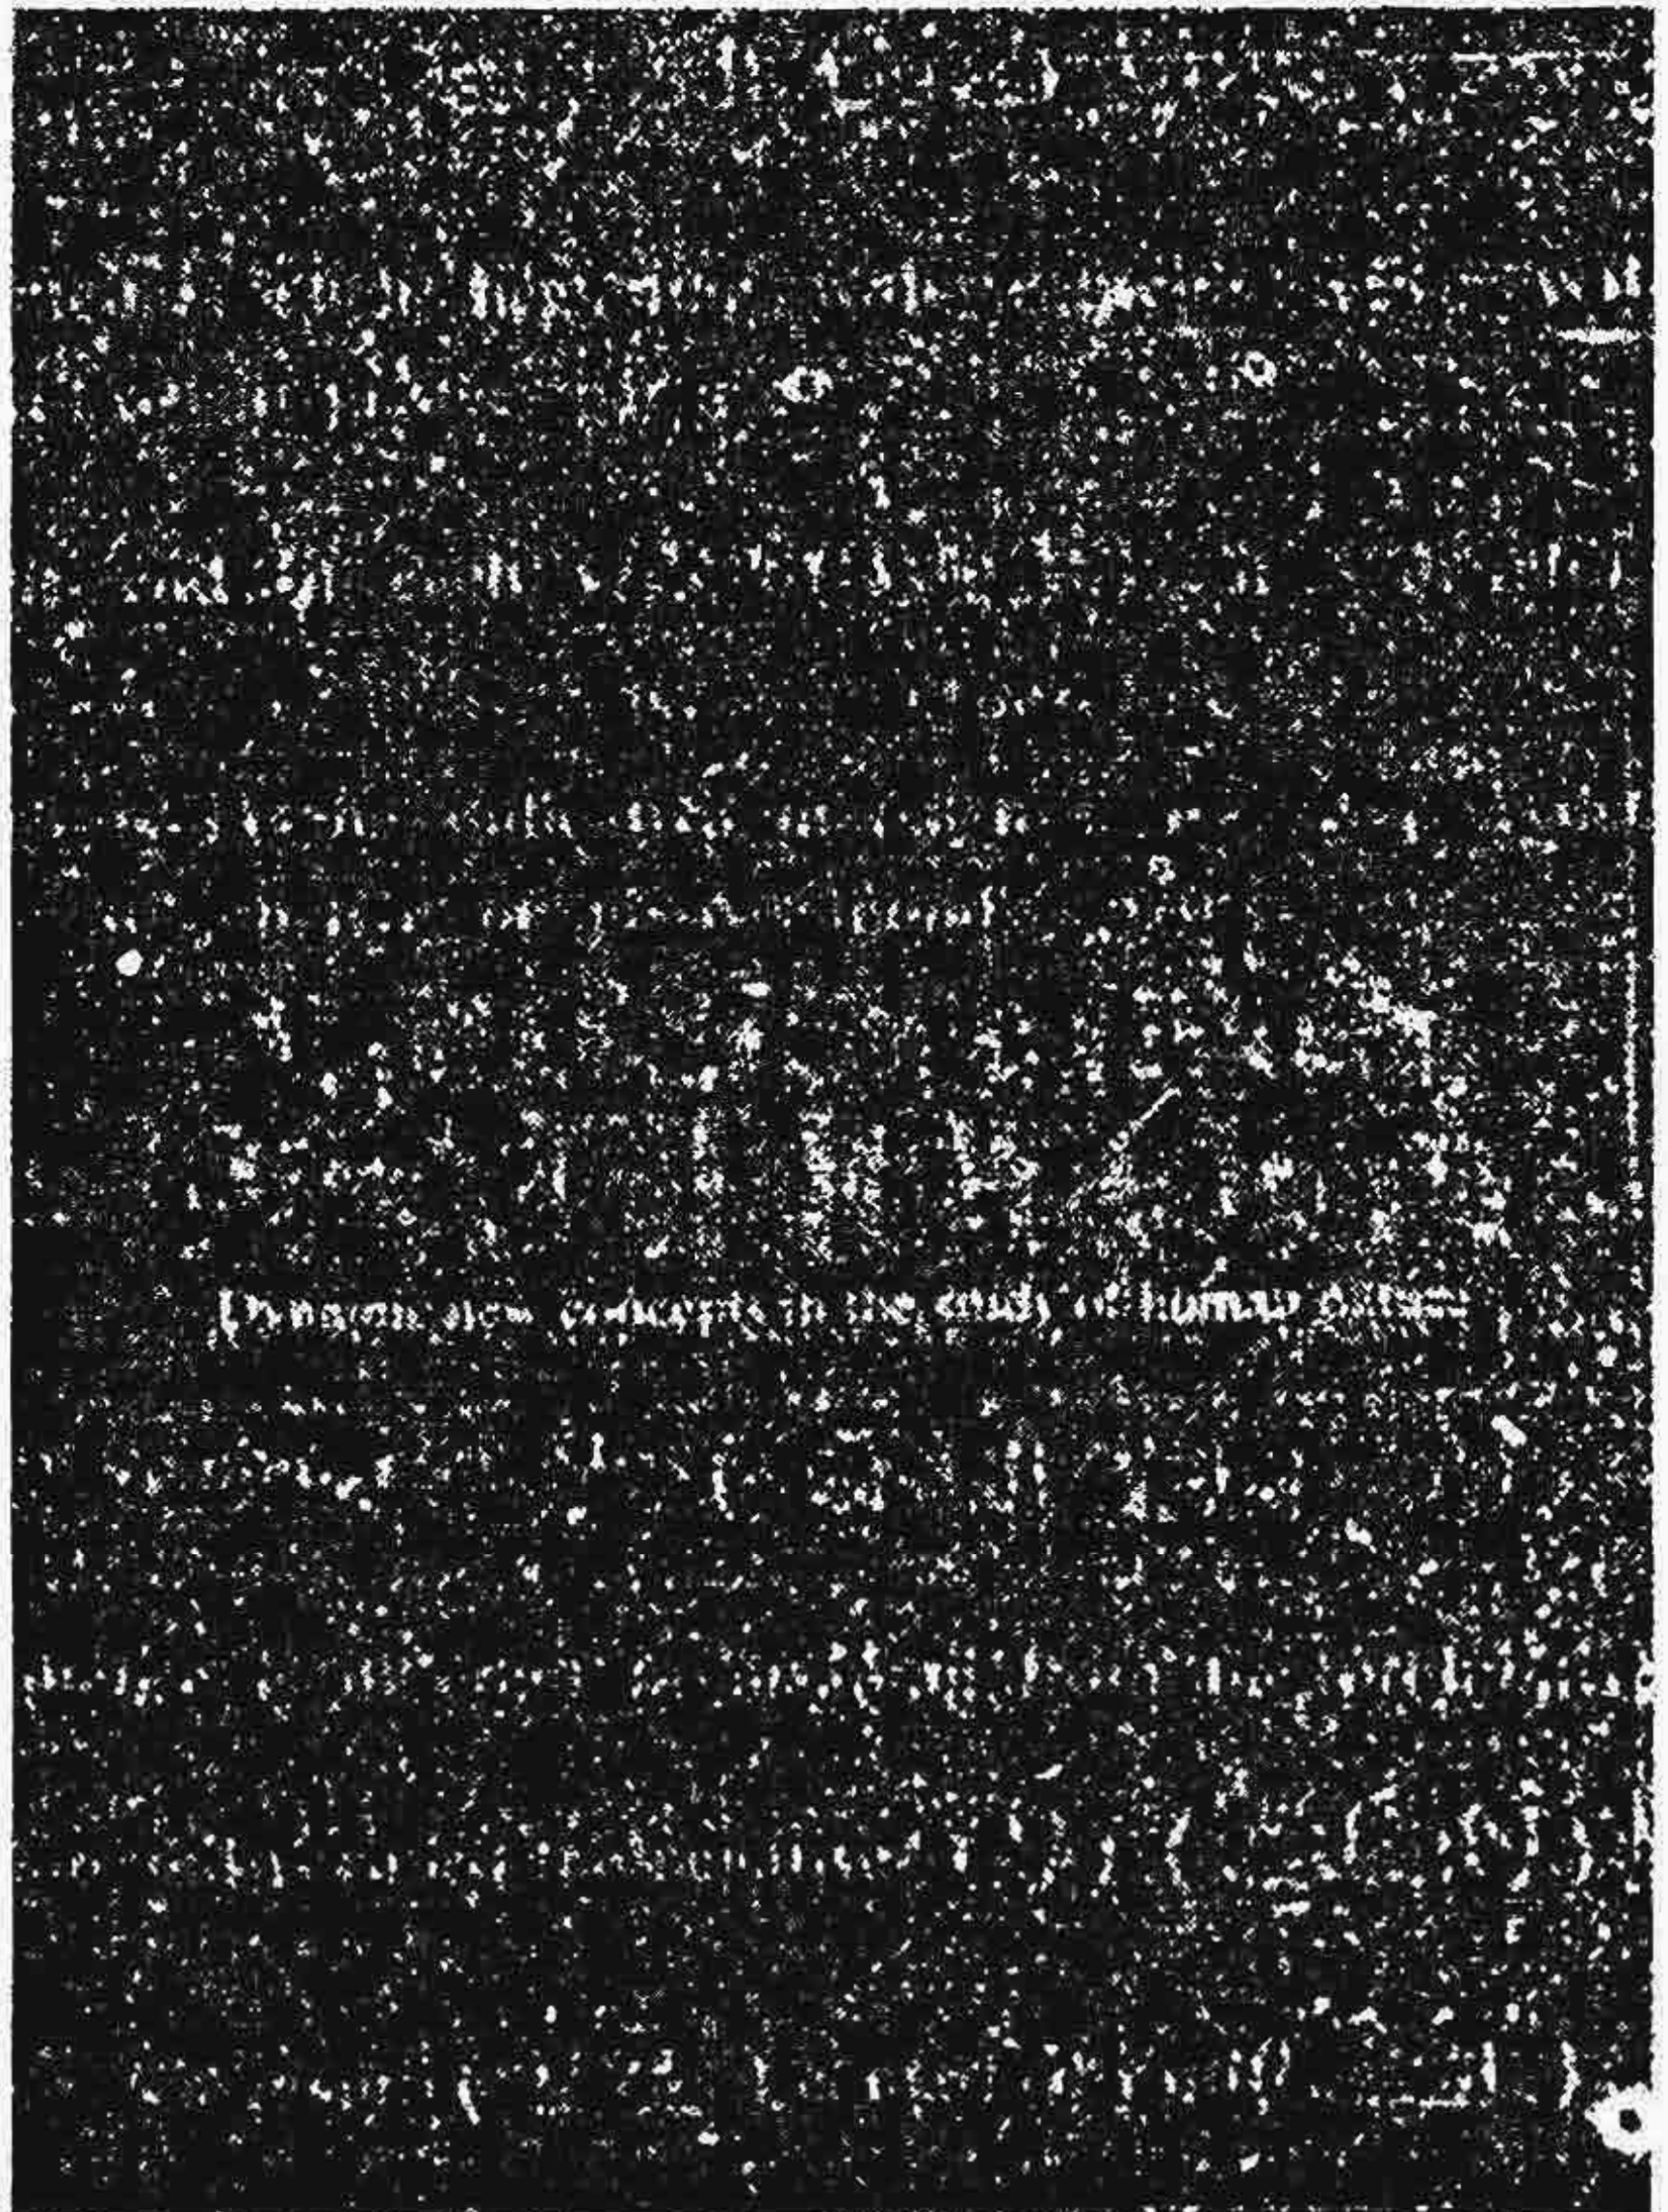

Christian Psychology is a study of the human condition that explores totally new concepts. Equally versed in the latest scientific developments and in the understanding of Holy Scripture, Dr Hani Rizk Abdu endeavors to present a comprehensive view of man's total development.

Underlying the work is a fundamental thesis: The human being is created in the likeness of God. Beginning from that premise, Dr Abdu describes the three dimensions of the Trinity and correlates man's existence in body, soul, and spirit with the divine. Man's outward traits are examined, as is his destiny after life in the material world.

As he considers the three dimensions of human personality, Dr Abdu explores the energy field in which man functions, pointing out the waves of spiritual energy for good or evil and the relationship between emotion and sensation caused by waves of magnetic energy.

Fascinating in its scope, Dr Abdu's quantitative analyses of human behavior provides equations for human conduct and depicts the capacities of human energy and dimension.

The importance of divine energy in human life and the understanding of scriptural truth in man's existence are the foundations of Christian Psychology—an important contribution to the study of man.

A CASE STUDY OF MR. PARANOID, by Dr. George A. Jackson, Ph.D - 147pp
hardcover $4 - Exposition Press, 325 Kings Highway, Smithtown, NY

A story within a theory and reality fused. In this latest case study of a continuing series, the University of Rationalization is once again examining the victim of harrassment and hostility, extracting the salient facts and exploring possible consequences and solutions. Have a laugh on new insights into the thought processes of the sensitive individual.

THE TRUE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE, by Hani Rizk Abdu - hardcover
Exposition Press

Abdu attempts to disprove the long-held theory that science and religion doesn't mix. The Great Guru Abdu makes it through, showing that "This task applies to modern man as much as to biblical man". The Egyptian made it again!

PILGRIM FROM A RED LAND, by Quentin K.Y. Huang - hardcover 119pp - $8
Exposition Press

Judge J. Gareth Hitchcock's foreword is impressive and Bishop Quentin's story fascinating. When communism overtook mainland China in 1949, Quentin was the religious Christian leader; the provinces of Kweichow and Yunna. He was one of the prisoners uncharged, subjected to physical and mental tortures... Bishop Quentin K.Y. Huang died at 71 on July 2, 1973 but his testimony of courage and dignity will survive.

Two paperbacks from Vesta Publications, Box 1641, Cornwall, Ontario:

1. THE GLASS PRAIRIE, by Bluebell Phillips - 184pp - $5

This fascinating novel deals with the Confederation, the CPR building and the RCMP.

2. BROKEN WINGS, by Guy F. Claude Hamel - 137pp - $5.25

Broken wings can heal, and the bird may fly again, if only he had enough faith in himself and in his friends, his loved ones. The 136 poems presented in this work show exactly how man can do what birds can't. This collection covers a wide variety of life's experiences. But it's not a book for puritans nor for the squeamish intellect.

WHAT DO YOU SAY TO A MOONIE? by Chris Elkins - paperback 95pp - $2.50
Tyndale House, 336 Gundersen Dr., Wheaton, IL 60187
A former Moonie tells it all. The Unification Church, headed by the Rev. Sun Myung Moon reached even the confine of the White House and sided with disgraced President Richard Nixon during the Watergate scandal. That's one of the revelations this author brings you. She now shows you how to deal with such people.

Two more paperbacks from Tyndale:

1. ESCAPE FROM ISLAM, by Hass Hirji-Walji and Jaryl Strong - 144pp - $3.95
The story of an exile from Idi Amin's Uganda who set out to spread his Moslem faith in America only to sell out to Christianity.
2. BETTER THAN BLESSED, by Donald L. Anderson - 121pp - $2.50
Taking a fresh look at the Beatitudes in an attempt to point the way to emotional health in a tense world.

Four hardcover books from Exposition Press, 325 Kings Highway, Smithtown, NY 11787

1. CHRISTIAN PSYCHOLOGY by Hani Rizk Abdu
A comprehensive view of human development under Christ's banner. The author also explores the spiritual energy field in which man functions.
2. UNDERSTANDING BIBLICAL SYMBOLS by Charles L. Edwards - 86pp - $6
The author attempts to show biblical symbols as being "divinely interpreted" through the scriptures.
3. HELPS AND HINTS AT BIBLE STUDY by Louis M. Perschke - 162pp - $8.50
Practical guide to yer ole bible.
4. CAN YOU HEAR ME, GOD? by Vic Merrill - 84pp - $6
The only way you can hear God's answer is to shut up and listen.

BEYOND THE VISIBLE by Drs. Paul and Doree Molow - 231pp - $10 - Exposition
The triumph over yourself, life and emotions. Intuitive perceptions are brilliantly discussed.
